ROBBERY WITHOUT A PARALLEL

Was Practiced in 1903 Election by Democrats.

Trees, Houses and Clothing Voted at Bailey Precinct in Franklin County.

AND ALWAYS FOR DEMOCRATS.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 16.—Worse than alphabet voting; worse than mere filling of the ballot box or the ordinary skullduggery of the ordinary election thief is the crime of fraud discovered here Saturday by a casual investigation in the office of the county clerk of Franklin county.

The record of one precinct of this county for the election of that year when Col. Morris B. Beckham opposed Gov. J. P. W. Beckham for the gubernatorial chair, throws an illuminating flood upon the method used by Democrats in that election when by such methods the Democrat ticket was nominally elected. It explains easily other remarkable phenomena, and even suggests how during the Democratic primary of 1906, when Gov. Beckham and Auditor Hager were opposing Senator James H. McCreary and Attorney General Hays, persons from some counties gave those in control of the machinery grossly unjustified than there were voters.

Incontrovertible evidence and unmistakable proof have been advanced to show without a doubt and all the world may see and believe that in the "Bailey precinct" famous for having returned a unanimous verdict for the "Republican ticket," whose strength with the people even now in his own party, notably John K. Hendrick, have impugned, 219 voters were returned for Beckham, one was returned as spoiled, and none was shown for Hendrick; when, as a matter of fact, there were but 115 voters in the precinct.

Further examination and recourse to the stub books turned in by the election officers of the precinct, all of whom were Democrats, has proved that the methods of the election thieves in Louisville in 1903 are disclosed by the bold effort with which frauds were perpetrated in this precinct. Not only were the certificates made to give up their dead, and men who had, fortunately for themselves, left the precinct of that precinct, compelled to return and cast their ballots for Gov. Beckham, but scores of names of which the most casual examination reveals the falsity, were placed on the stub books and voted for the Democrats. Trees were given life, articles of clothing were endowed with the right of suffrage, botanies and natural histories were invaded, and each plant and flower and root was called into the council and its vote taken and it was always for the Democrats and Gov. Beckham.

Below will be found a few of the remarkable list of voters whose names are to be found on the stubs of the ballot book of the famous Bailey precinct of Franklin county, Ky. It will be observed that almost every manner of inanimate object was called to the rescue of the Democrats to help make it unanimous for Beckham Hager and the remainder of the state ticket. Here is a list for the voters of Kentucky to ponder over:

P. Pyne, B. Beards, E. Newer, D. Dain, H. More, Mr. Oak, B. Beach, E. Elm, H. Hickory, S. Hickmore, A. Apple, P. Pear, P. Plum, B. Brial, R. Raspberry, L. Log, C. Chip, R. Rock, P. Fence, E. Cedar, G. Gum, S. Spring, R. Road, C. Creek, H. House, W. Willow, A. Ash, C. Clay, B. Clay, R. Grass, C. Clover, W. Paper, T. Table, P. Floor, H. Hog, F. Fire, W. Wagon, P. Pike, P. Pines, S. 32 KILLED.
Concord, N. H., Sept. 10.—Ten bodies, some in ghastly fragments, that may not be properly assembled, await identification here today and with 22 identified dead, being the list of fatalities in yesterday's wreck at Concombe, N. H. The injured divided between hospitals here and Boston, number 50. This will probably complete the roll of victims of New England's most disastrous railroad wreck in recent years.

CHINAMAN KILLS.
Chicago, Ill., Sept. 16.—When George Wong, a Chinese, was attacked in a street car this morning by a gang of intoxicated men in frenzied fear he drew a long-bladed knife from his house and slashed his way through the car, John Grant was probably fatally cut and five others slightly wounded. Wong was almost lynched before the police succeeded in capturing him.

THREE SCANDALS.
New York, Sept. 16.—The statement that a riot scandal of wide proportions is brewing as a result of a couple of suspicious-looking cases at Shespeard Bay, has been confirmed. A Pinkerton agent has forwarded to the jockey club information alleged to incriminate the trainer, owner, jockey and bookmaker. The stewards will take up the matter at the next meeting.

CASSIE AGAIN.
Columbus, O., Sept. 16.—Cassie Chadwick, the witch of friendly theory, is again in the penitentiary hospital seized with an attack of neuritis of the heart. For awhile Sunday she was in a dangerous condition.

BRIMING FATAL.
Bowling Green, Ky., Sept. 16.—Miss Anna Craddock, of Middlesboro, died at Potter College, while visiting her sister, a student there. Miss Craddock was indisposed, and took several doses of laudanum before physicians alleged death was caused by the drug.

KAPEL GENERAL.
Be-Ho, Sept. 16.—General Cardot, of the French army, was expelled from Germany soil by the government today for watching military maneuvers without official permission.

JUST ENTHUSIASM.
St. Louis, Sept. 16.—In his cell today Hugo Dussenberg, aged 17, offers but one defense for throwing pop bottles at Empire Evans yesterday—his enthusiasm over the game. Evans is somewhat better today and physicians say he will probably recover.

DEBARKED.
Chicago, Sept. 16.—Sentence death to the wash tub or sweatshop and let their wives and children eat and sleep at the city's expense, then we will have more perfect justice," declared Judge C. H. H. of Chicago before the meeting of the prison congress today.

Post Card Troubles.
Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 16.—Frank Morris and D. J. Fealy, news dealers, charged with selling improper post cards, got another indefinite continuance yesterday in the United States commissioner's court.

Franklin at Mayfield.
Mayfield, Ky., Sept. 16.—A good crowd is here today to hear Robert H. Franklin of Frankfort, speak in the interest of the Democratic ticket.

HENRY BOYD KILLED BY STRANGE NEGRO

Shooting Occurred on Steamer J. B. Richardson.

Boyd, Son of Well Known Colored Man of City—Killing Said to Have Been Unprovoked.

SHOOTIST REPORTED CAPTURED.

Henry Boyd, colored, 29 years old, was shot and fatally wounded on the steamer J. B. Richardson four miles this side of Mound City Sunday at noon, dying on an Illinois Central train at Naxon Mills at 7:30 o'clock last night while en route home. The shooting is shrouded in mystery, few details being possible to get.

Boyd is a son of Henry Boyd, Sr., 1005 North Ninth street, and drove the Rock & Sons delivery wagon. He left Paducah between 8 and 9 o'clock Sunday morning. At Joppa a strange negro got on the boat and it is stated made threats against Boyd. No one seems to know if the two had had trouble. When the boat was four miles from Mound City Boyd was going around the deck when he met the stranger. He pulled a pistol and fired a ball into Boyd's stomach. Boyd turned to flee when a second shot caught him in the right shoulder, fired from behind.

At Mound City the marksman left the boat and walked leisurely up the hill, no one intercepting him. Boyd was given medical attention at Cairo and left at 6 o'clock for Paducah in charge of friends on the accommodation train. He died at Naxon Mills eight miles from Paducah.

Rumors are that the marksman was arrested at Mound City, but no authentic reports have reached the police or Boyd family. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, burial in Oak Grove cemetery.

Inquest Tomorrow.
Coroner Frank Baker is ill today and unable to hold an inquest, but will tomorrow morning summon witnesses and hold an inquest. Although shot in another county, Coroner Baker has jurisdiction because death occurred in this county.

WILL ISSUE WARRANTS FOR CORPORATIONS

Where Word "Incorporated" Does Not Appear on Advertising Matter.

Have you got the word incorporated under your sign, if you are an incorporated concern? If you have not, you are, probably, in for a $100 fine.

Under the law of the state all corporations have to display the fact that they are such on all signs and stationery, and the Sun has repeatedly called its readers' attention to it. However, it seems there are a number of people who have not heeded the warning and a rude awakening from their slumbers is coming to them.

Today a former city official is taking down the names of all corporations who have been negligent in the matter, and no doubt they will be hauled into court and touched to the extent of $100, which seems to be the popular assessment for such lapse of memory. The former official was seen in consultation with one of the county officials today, and the ubiquitous "little bird" tipped it off to a Sun representative that they had a list of the local corporations which are violating the law and that prosecutions will follow.

A few months ago the corporations of Louisville, Lexington and several other Kentucky towns paid for their negligence and it seems to be Paducah's turn now.

Declines Requisition.
Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 16.—Gov. Gillette has declined to refuse the request of Gov. Folk, of Missouri, for the extradition of R. F. Magoun and Antonio Villareal, now in jail in Los Angeles, charged with criminal libel in St. Louis.

Andrew Hall, of Plunkett's Hill, colored, reports that some one entered his house last night and stole a blue pair of trousers and an alpaca coat.

Lax Rules at Jail Criticized; Grand Jury Will Investigate.

Bitter criticism is being made today of the lax rules of the jail that permit of such an occurrence as the shooting of a jail prisoner in a saloon brawl Saturday night, and no doubt the matter will be taken up by the grand jury for investigation. Complaints of a similar nature have been made from time to time, and as a measure of safety, if nothing else, the practice of allowing any prisoners to roam at large should be prohibited.

"I should like to know what manner of management it is that allows a vicious prisoner to be roaming seven blocks from the county jail at midnight, said former Sheriff Lee Potter today," and I, for one, think the authorities should investigate the matter, place the responsibility, and call some one to time. A former jailer was fined $100 once for just such a practice, and if a similar fine was made in this instance I think the effect would be salutary."

It has only been a few weeks since a negro "rusty" at the jail was found on the second floor of the Blederman grocery at Seventh and Washington streets.

Jailer Eaker's Statement.
Jailer James Eaker this morning authorized the following statement: "Turnkey Howie took Taylor out of jail without my knowledge or consent. Taylor tells me that he warned Howie to ask permission, but Howie did not think it necessary. I am very sorry that the matter occurred, and want the impression that Taylor has been a trusty corrected. He has not been a trusty, but has been confined like all other prisoners in jail."

Turnkey Howie resigned this morning, and has gone home near Slater, Ky. The trousers Taylor bought were delivered at the jail this morning. Howie's Statement.
Turnkey Howie stated today regarding the affair: "Taylor grabbed my pistol from my pocket when Manuel pulled the gun. I saw nothing until after the shooting, and this morning Manuel admitted to me that he saw Taylor take the gun from my pocket, denying the statement he is alleged to have made concerning my handing the weapon to Taylor."

PATROLMAN HOWELL EXTINGUISHES FIRE

Patrolman Samuel Howell in an emergency assumed the duties of fireman and removed the cause of a fire alarm before the fire companies arrived, this morning at 3 o'clock.

Howell and his partner, H. H. Doyle, were passing the James Magan residence at Fourth and Norton streets. Smoke was pouring out of a rear window. Rushing to an alarm box, the fire companies were summoned. Howell entered the house after walking upstairs, and found a box of trash alight. He picked it up and hurled it into the yard. No damage was done. How the fire originated is a mystery. Magan is an N. C. & St. L. engineer.

COMPLETE LANG PARK IN SHORT TIME

Work on Lang park is progressing more rapidly now than at any time this summer, and the park commissioners think they will have it about completed in two or three weeks. The park plan was drawn by Architect A. L. Lassiter, and is a very beautiful one. The commissioners are to meet this week to consider plans for other parks that are before them, one of which is the improvement of the triangle donated to the Woman's Club by the estate of the late S. R. Caldwell.

Will Harris, colored, employed at the local Illinois Central shops, let a skid fall on his left hand and badly mangled it.

Over $50,000 in Wage Money Distributed in Paducah Today.

Today there is more wage money in circulation in Paducah than has been loose here for years. Today was the pay day for over 1,000 men and women, and merchants will reap a benefit. What adds to the opportunity of merchants for a banner day business, is the presence of hundreds of farmers and strangers who are here to see the circus, and who will do shopping while here.

Yesterday the great Wallace & Hagenback circus came to Paducah bringing fully 500 employees. Today they were paid off. This morning the Illinois Central pay car, with checks for more than 500 employees, arrived, and railroad men are "dusbed" with coin. The two pay days coming together means thousands of dollars in the hands of ready spenders.

It is stated on good authority that the circus pay roll amounted to $25,000. The railroad pay roll amounts to more, and it is safe to estimate the total amount of wage money paid today is $50,000.

NEW TEACHER IN SCHOOL HERE

Prof. Hooker, of Chattanooga, Begins Work.

Miss Smith, Teacher of Fourth Grade at McKinley School, Tenders Resignation.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE BEGINS.

The arrival of Prof. H. E. Hooker and the employment of an extra teacher in the primary department of Washington school, relieved teaching corps at that school today. Prof. Hooker arrived Sunday from Chattanooga and reported for duty this morning. Miss Lillie Cook was employed to teach an extra class in the primary department, where a congestion of pupils impeded school work. Prof. Hooker is in the High school department.

Miss Smith Resigns.
Miss Anastasia Smith, teacher of the fourth grade at McKinley schools, resigned today, and her position is being filled by Miss Helene McKroom until a regular teacher can be elected. Miss Smith will go to Columbia, Ga., where she has a much better offer.

Tomorrow football practice will begin, and the High school boys will work hard to get into trim for the initial game with the Culley team. Yesterday the Culley's practice again near Wallace park, and are working hard to perfect team work.

An attempt is being made to have builders of the Tenth and Broadway skating rink, to reserve a portion of it for basket ball practice. A partition would be little expense, and would provide a place where girls might indulge in this sport. No basket ball team will be organized in the High school until a place for practice and games is secured.

ALDERMAN PALMER IS MAYOR TODAY

Paducah has a Republican mayor today, and the knowing city officials will try to get accustomed to it, as the wise acres predict we shall have a Republican mayor for four years beginning with the first of the year.

President of the Board of Aldermen Earl Palmer, is the mayor, by virtue of Mayor Yeiser's absence, and the duties of the office will sit easily on his shoulders as he is one of the best posted men on city affairs in Paducah. Mayor Yeiser left his books and papers with License Inspector George Leonard, and Mr. Palmer will pay a daily visit to headquarters to attend to any duties that may arise. When asked today how he liked serving under a Republican chief, Chief Collins said: "O, Mr. Palmer is all right. He will make a fine mayor; the only objection I could possibly find to him is his politics."

GLASS BLOWERS ORGANIZE 45 STRONG

Organization of the entire force of glass bottle blowers in the Finley plant in Mechanicsburg was effected yesterday morning at Central Labor Union hall on North Fourth street. There are forty-five members, and temporary officers were elected. In regard to the organization, President J. A. Voll, of Indianapolis, stated:

"The glass blowers organized yesterday morning forty-five strong, and will ask that the Paducah plant be placed in the jurisdiction of the Glass Bottle Blowers' union of the United States and Canada. This is the vital question involved. I have had several talks with Manager Finley, and he declares he will run an 'open shop.' This means that if the men work under this rule they will receive 25 per cent less than union wages. Ninety per cent of glass bottles blown in this country and Canada are blown under jurisdiction of the union. We have but little trouble in our union, always settling differences easily. We meet in May to discuss differences, and August have the second meeting when our agreement with manufacturers is entered into. I will be here indefinitely, and do not believe that the management of Paducah's plant will fight us long."

FATHER JANSEN HURT WHILE DODGING CAR

Switch Failed to Work and Car Took Opposite Direction.

In escaping from a "crazy" car at Sixth and Broadway last night at 8:30 o'clock, Father H. W. Jansen, of St. Frances de Sales church, was painfully but fortunately not seriously injured. He fell on the bitulthie street, and injured the back of his head.

Father Jansen was crossing the street just as car No. 3 of the depot line, in charge of Motorman Hagby and Conductor Lovelace, was rounding the curve. The front trucks took the curve, but the switch jumped back and the rear trucks started north on Sixth street, an opposite direction from the route of the front trucks.

Father Jansen saw the car coming his way and jumped. He fell and struck on his back. His head came in contact with the hard street with considerable force, and many bystanders ran to his assistance. Dr. R. E. Hearene was summoned and the injuries pronounced not serious. A wound was inflicted in the scalp in the back of his head. This morning Father Jansen is feeling better, but suffering from general soreness.

MANUFACTURE PATENT OF PADUCAHAN

Big Company Formed in St. Louis—Inventor Manages the Plant.

Mendall Wilson, a Paducah boy, has been recalled to St. Louis from Mt. Carmel, Ill., to be manager of a big manufacturing plant which will manufacture a patent of the young engineer's. Wilson has devised a water heater for residence, railroad cars or any place where hot water is used. He secured patent rights on it several months ago and all tests have proven it the most practical heater on the market. He later tested St. Louis capital and the result was an organization of a big company to manufacture the heater. It is stated by those who know and are acquainted with the merits of the patent, that it means a fortune for the young Paducahan. Mr. Wilson lived here until several years ago. He is an engineer and formerly was in the U. S. navy. He is a nephew of Charles Johnson, the marine engineer, of Fourth and Clark streets.

Dr. W. C. Eubanks has gone to Rising Sun, Indiana, to visit his wife and son who are there on a visit. Dr. Eubanks will return Friday.

BABY'S VOICE

Is the joy of the household, for without it no happiness can be complete. How sweet the picture of mother and babe! Angels smile at and commend the thoughts and aspirations of the mother bending over the cradle. The ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so full of danger and suffering that she looks forward to the hour when she shall feel the exquisite thrill of motherhood with indescribable dread and fear. Every woman should know that the danger, pain and horror of childbirth can be entirely avoided by the use of Mother's Friend, a scientific liniment for external use only, which toughens and renders pliable all the parts, and assists nature in its sublime work. MOTHER'S FRIEND

THEATRICAL NOTES

Madame Butterfly Coming.

J. P. Payne, business manager for the Savage Opera company, was in Paducah yesterday arranging for the appearance of the Madame Butterfly company in Paducah the third week in January. He has been out five months ahead of his company, and it is only the larger cities that the big production plays. He left last night for the south.

Constance Crawley.

In speaking of the engagement of Constance Crawley, who appears at The Kentucky tonight, Mr. Frank C. Payne, general business manager of Henry W. Savage's English Grand Opera company in "Madam Butterfly", states that Miss Crawley's tour of the south has been an artistic and social success. Mr. Payne says that Captain W. W. Williams, dramatic editor of the New Orleans Times-Democrat, and the dean of Southern critics, was more than enthusiastic about Miss Crawley and that her work in New Orleans had been in the nature of a revelation. Captain Williams considered her interpretation of Ibsen's wonderful drama, superior to Mrs. Fiske's presentation and a higher compliment could be paid to her than this favorable comparison. Mr. Payne further stated that Miss Crawley had supported Ben Greet, one of the world's best known Shakespearean interpreters, and that she was a woman of unquestioned dramatic ability and genius and that Paducah theater goers who were interested in the more advanced drama would certainly derive great pleasure from her presentation of Hedda Gabler.

Mr. Payne is five months in advance of the Savage production of Madame Butterfly, the production of which will be presented in Paducah the third week in January. His present tour is only a flying trip through the south investigating conditions in cities where this beautiful opera will be produced and to learn whether the opera is desired and will receive the support due it before signing contracts. Mr. Payne expressed himself as pleased with the outlook in Paducah and assured the local management that Mr. Savage's celebrated Japanese production would certainly be produced here the third week in January. Only a few minor changes being the drop curtain and the big 50 piece orchestra carried by this greatest of all musical organizations.

Another High Authority.

James O'Donnell, Bennett, of the Chicago Record-Herald, the highest priced theatrical critic in the United States, says of Constance Crawley: "She is a poetess, her facial expression subdued, but ever eloquent and an air of spirituality about her acting as indefinable as it was persuasive."

Some Inspiring Scenes.

To see a full line of battlefields plunging the deep at full speed figures, adoration. It thrills the spectator. This is the sensation produced in every spectator of Lyman H. Howe's superb moving pictures of a naval attack to be seen at the work in New Orleans had been in the nature of a revelation. Captain Williams considered her interpretation of Ibsen's wonderful drama, superior to Mrs. Fiske's presentation and a higher compliment could be paid to her than this favorable comparison. Mr. Payne further stated that Miss Crawley had supported Ben Greet, one of the world's best known Shakespearean interpreters, and that she was a woman of unquestioned dramatic ability and genius and that Paducah theater goers who were interested in the more advanced drama would certainly derive great pleasure from her presentation of Hedda Gabler.

Hailing is one expensive habit everybody seems to have.

GROVER CLEVELAND REPORTED DYING

End of Ex-President Expected in Few Weeks.

Has Suffered With Gout for Many Years But Lately Has Had Attacks of Acute Indigestion.

ONLY LIVING EX-PRESIDENT.

New York, Sept. 16.—Grover Cleveland, former president of the United States, is said to be dying in a well-authenticated report which reached this city last night. It is declared on high authority that the distinguished Democratic leader, and the first man of his party to be placed at the head of the national government since the Civil war, may live a few weeks longer, but that he will never recover from the malady which attacked him some time since.

For many years Mr. Cleveland has been a sufferer from gout, and although has undergone much pain, the disease has never been regarded as serious by his attending physicians. Within the last few weeks, the poison has not only spread from his feet to his knees, but recently he has been attacked by acute indigestion and internal affections. The combination of these attacks is expected to be too much for the constitution of the sufferer.

For some time Mrs. Cleveland has remained at the side of her husband and has been most constant in her care of him. Little news of the ex-president's condition has been given to the public and no communications have been allowed to reach his wife attending to all of his affairs.

Mr. Cleveland is now one of the most noted characters in American life today, not only through the prestige attained by his occupancy of the White House, but also because his striking personality and mental powers have impressed themselves on the country ever since he left the presidency. When he left the presidential chair it was only to be transferred to a professorship in Princeton university, which post he has held with distinguished honor to the college and himself.

During the recent insurance upheaval Mr. Cleveland was chosen to be chairman of the board of trustees of the Equitable Life company, when Thomas P. Ryan purchased the stock of the younger Hyde. It was Mr. Cleveland's efficient direction of the company's affairs which averted an impending calamity in the insurance world.

GENERAL ROBERT E. LEE Was the greatest general the world has ever known. Ballard's Snow Liniment is the greatest Liniment. Quickly cures all pains. It is within the reach of all. T. H. Dointer, Hempstead, Texas, writes: "This is to certify that Ballard's Snow Liniment has been used in my household for years and has been found to be an excellent Liniment for Rheumatism, neuralgic pains, I can never without it." Sold by J. H. Ochelschlaeger, Lays Bros. and C. O. Hildey.

3000 REPLYES WERE RECEIVED BY MATRIMONIAL BUREAU.

Answers to literature and ads of the Kentucky Matrimonial Bureau, organized and maintained several weeks by Paducah young men, are still being received although the bureau is a thing of the past. A total of 3600 letters have been received to date.

CURED TO STAY CURED.

How a Paducah Citizen Found Complete Freedom from Kidney Troubles.

If you suffer from backache—From urinary disorders—From any disease of the kidneys, He cured to stay cured.

Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures. Paducah people testify. Here's one case of it: Mrs. George Romain, 2223 Meyers street, Paducah, Ky., says: "I have been a sufferer for a long time from a general complication of kidney troubles. I was bothered with aching back and lameness in my shoulders and never was without a pain of some sort even for a single day. I used a great deal of medicine but never got anything that pleased and relieved me so much as Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at DuBois & Co.'s drug store after learning how they had helped me and they certainly did for I now feel as well as I ever did. They are also easy to take and seem to cure without giving any ill effects." (From statement given in 1909.)

A Permanent Cure.

On Feb. 18 Mrs. Romain said: "I made a statement for publication several years ago telling of the great benefit I had received from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Now after a lapse of seven years I am glad to say that I have not had an attack since, so I have every reason to believe they effected a permanent cure."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Umpire Assailed.

St. Louis, Sept. 16.—During the second game between the Detroit and St. Louis teams of the American League this afternoon Umpire Evans was struck on the head by a pop bottle, thrown by a spectator and was painfully injured, but it is expected that he will be out again in a few days. The thrower of the bottle, a lad of 17 years, declares he had no intention of hitting the umpire, is under arrest. A large crowd expressed their strong disfavor of the act, but the speedy arrival of the police prevented trouble.

WILL SPEAK AT CONVENTION

T. V. Powderly to Attend Paducah Conference.

Chief of Information Bureau of Immigration Tells Plans for Conduct of His Division.

LOUISVILLE WILL BE VISITED.

Washington, Sept. 16.—T. V. Powderly, chief of the division of Information, Bureau of Immigration, has accepted the invitation of Secretary D. W. Coons to attend the convention of the Kentucky Immigration and Good Roads association in Paducah on September 26. Mr. Powderly will deliver an address to the convention upon the future work of the division of which he is the head.

Mr. Powderly's idea is to gather information which will show the good points in land, climate, transportation facilities and adaptability for different kinds of crops, with the prices of these lands. Terms of purchase, names of owners and such other data as may be of benefit to the arriving alien.

"We also will obtain information," said Mr. Powderly, "as to the exact places where men may find employment, wages, hours of service, house rents and everything pertaining thereto. We want this information so specific as to detail that we may be able from time to time to tell the newly admitted just where he can find employment and a home."

Mr. Powderly said this information would be particularly to the south, from which the greatest demand for immigrants is now coming. The information is first to be given in bulletin form to the officers of the service at ports of entry. Later, however, it will be posted in the centers of all the large cities for the guidance of those out of employment.

"In the southern states there are thousands of acres waiting for men out of employment, and my idea is to make the information division the missing link between the two, thus introducing idle hands to the fertile lands," said Mr. Powderly.

On his return from Paducah Mr. Powderly will stop in Louisville and confer with A. E. Quarles, secretary of the Employers' association, and J.

THE PASSION PLAY

OR

LIFE OF CHRIST

All Week Commencing

MONDAY, SEPT. 16

And Holy City Song, at

KOZY ELECTRIC THEATRE

A wonderful and magnificent production of a touching drama on the Life of Christ. A cast including Christ, His Disciples, Pilate, King Herod and all ancient characters implicated, with 500 Roman Soldiers and Citizens.

Illustrating the Life of Our Savior from Birth to the Ascension as played at the last presentation in Ober Ammergau, Bavaria, reproduced by means of soul-stirring pictures. This play is now produced but once in ten years, and is the sole survivor of those Mystic Plays, or Religious Dramas, which were in full vogue during the Middle Ages in

GERMANY, FRANCE, ITALY, SPAIN AND ENGLAND

It costs hundreds of thousands of dollars to produce the play, and people go from all over the world to see it.

Everybody may see this wonderful production, which will be shown at the Kozy theater at a small cost.

Song, "Holy City," Will Be a Moving Picture Song

Something never before seen in Paducah. Special singers and music for this grand and glorious occasion. Owing to enormous cost of producing these two great subjects which is about 3,700 feet long and showing them all at each and every performance, the admission will be:

Children under 12 Years, 10c. Adults, 20c.

Open From 10 a. m. to 11 p. m. All Week

Ladies and children should try to attend day performances and avoid big crowds at night. The entire clergy are cordially invited as guests of the Kozy theater during the entire week.

This picture is direct from Paris and has never been on a machine, thereby insuring the people of Paducah the very finest production possible.

-let us deliver to your home a Buck's stove on approval

—a white enameled oven which insures clean, wholesome food

—good health is largely dependent upon clean food—clean food cannot be prepared in a dirty oven.

—a sanitary oven is even a greater necessity than a sanitary refrigerator—for during the process of baking chemical changes render contamination doubly easy.

—why take great care in the preparation of a fine cake, for instance—then bake it in an oven, the seams and joints of which are filled with contaminating filth?

—Buck's white enamel is not a paint—but a white glass enamel—burned into the pores of the iron—and is practically everlasting.

—Buck's ovens are absolutely clean—a reason why you should own one.

—here is the greatest stove offer ever made to the buying public of this city.

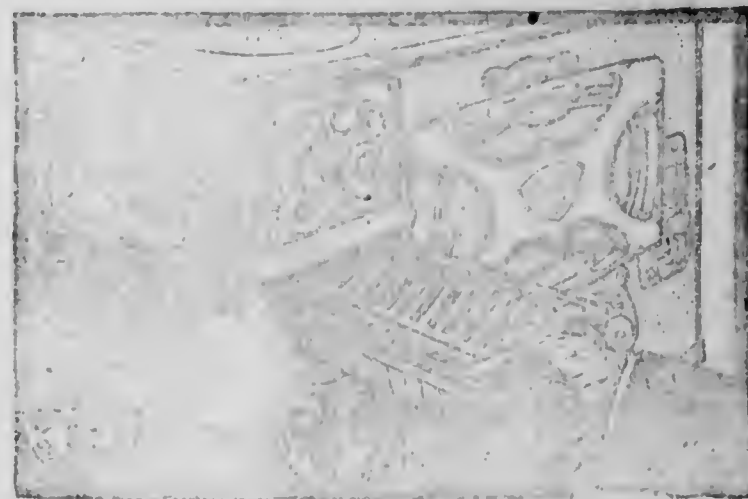

—through special arrangements with the Buck's Stove and Range Company we are enabled to deliver to any home in this city or vicinity, a Buck's range, cook stove, hard coal or hot blast heater for a thorough approval test.

—if the stove does not perform all of its functions properly—does not do all we say it will do, we will cheerfully remove it and refund any payment that may have been made on the same.

—and we will give you our written guarantee that we will do just as we say we will do.

—this once-in-a-lifetime-offer is based on our faith in these wonderful stoves—you cannot afford to miss it.

—take advantage of it today, as the offer stands good but for a short time.

—this duplex grate will reduce your fuel expenses

—the first cost of a Buck's range is but a small part of the final cost—the range is so long-lived that it eats up many times its original price in fuel.

—a very small saving of fuel each day, means a tremendous saving during the lifetime of the stove—a saving of many times the original cost.

—this duplex grate saves fuel—for it admits oxygen to the burning fuel in such quantities that all its heating power is exhausted and used.

—and further—this grate may be changed—in an instant—so as to burn either wood or coal—and it may be easily removed for cleaning or repairs—and without disturbing the water back.

—this is just one of many reasons why you should own a Buck's.

—one dollar a week pays for any Buck's stove or range selected from our stock—and sent to your home for free and thorough test.

—the most liberal credit and the most courteous treatment extended to all.

MISS JULIE FLORENCE WALSH

WOMEN SUFFER

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? These may be easily traced to some feminine derangement which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, headache, dragging sensations, flatulency, nervousness, and sleeplessness.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded, a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result. The best remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs. No other medicine in the country has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female ills.

Miss J. E. Walsh, of 328 W. 34th St., New York City, writes:—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been of inestimable value in restoring my health. I suffered from female illness which caused dreadful headaches, dizziness, and dull pain in my back, but your medicine soon brought about a change in my general condition, built me up and made me perfectly well."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cures Female Complaints, such as Backache, Falling and Discharges, Inflammation and Ulceration, and organic diseases. It is invaluable in preparing for child-birth and during the Change of Life. It cures Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, and invigorates the whole system.

FARMER'S WIFE

HOLDS UP CREW OF TRAIN WITH SHOTGUN.

Caught Them Red-Handed Robbing Her Watermelon Patch—Compels Them to Pay.

Granite City, Ill., Sept. 16.—No watermelon patch in Illinois has a greater reputation in the markets than that of John Schrupe. But although he raised many luscious melons this season the Schrupe family hooks have failed to indicate a profit commensurate with the size of the yield. Mrs. Schrupe decided to solve the riddle and this morning she took her knitting out behind the corn crib where she had a good view of the melon patch.

Reside her rested a shotgun filled with shells she had loaded herself—

"Chifty son"—from odds and ends of hardware she had found in the kitchen catch-all. The Illinois Central and Clover Leaf tracks pass the Schrupe farm and Mrs. Schrupe's theory had a vague basis in this fact. As she knitted a Clover Leaf freight switched to the side track and the entire crew, engineer, fireman, conductor and two brakemen—straggled into the melon patch.

With her shotgun cocked Mrs. Schrupe executed a flank movement and placed herself between the men and the train. Then she brought the gun to her shoulder and walked in upon the red feast.

"Fifty cents each, please," she said. The trainmen tried to compromise on a quarter each, but when the woman squinted along the two long gun barrels and said: "Fifty cents or this," they sheepishly made up a purse of $2.50 and were allowed to get over the fence.

WILLSON'S STAND ON TEMPERANCE

Wins Approval From Large Audiences.

People Readily Recognize Absurdity of Governor's Position in Working for County Unit Bill.

APPEALS TO THE YOUNG MEN.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Sept. 16.—"The Democratic machine primary of 1906 has the parable of the leaves and fishes discounted," declared Augustus E. Willson, the Republican nominee for governor Saturday afternoon before a large outpouring of Montgomery county citizens after he had compared the manner in which his nomination came to him with that of Mr. Hager's, whose, he said, was stashed with the fraud and shame of dishonor while his own was white and unsullied.

"I'd rather never hold an office," he declared, "than to hold it when its inception was a birth of scandal and disgrace."

He challenged a denial of the crime and theft which defeated McCleary and Hays, the choice of the Democratic party, in favor of Heckham and Hager, and again told of the story of Peter, Frozeu, Quicksand and Troublesome, some names which are now inseparably associated with those outrages in the minds of the self-respecting element of the Democratic party.

It was an interesting picture that Mr. Willson drew of Messrs. Heckham, Hager, Hines and Hays, as a quartette of temperance apostles.

Saw Its Absurdity.
His audience was obliged to recognize the absurdity of the governor's position in working to defeat the county unit bill; that of Mr. Hager, who the saloon men's $3,500 check in his possession; that of Campaign Manager Hines on his mission to flowing green to defeat the local option interest, and that of Mr. Hays in his famous letter to Judge Lassig with their latter day repentance as the time for the machine primary drew near.

The humor of the situation was so apparent that even the large number of old-time Democrats, who had come to listen to Mr. Willson, were obliged to relax their interest in order to reveal in the full appreciation of the moment.

"Really what are we coming to in Kentucky," asked Mr. Willson, "when serious and earnest thinking men question for a moment which side of the political house advocates real honesty and manly temperance?" Then in his usual straightforward and manly way he explained just how the Republican party stood on this important issue, and it was doubtful if any of his audience was unconvinced when he had finished.

His Temperance Platform.
"I stand upon the Republican platform on the temperance issue which favors a general county unit law," he said, "and on that platform I accepted my nomination. To the fulfillment of the principles of that platform I am pledged in letter and spirit and honor. All my days I have striven sincerely and faithfully for temperance, and I have practiced what I preached. I am most seriously and unrelentingly opposed to intemperance."

"I believe unrelentingly in the rule of the majority of country, of state, of county, of city, of precinct. I was born of a good old-fashioned Baptist family, who believed in true temperance, and I have been reared to be a true temperate man."

Cannot Fool the People.
"I do not believe that the people of Kentucky can be fooled by any pretense that the Republican platform is weak on the subject, or that I have been dodging or straddling either in my preaching or my practice, and I deprecate the utter lack of candor, not to use stronger language, which is shown in the statements which I have quoted from the Democratic nominees, and in the further statement of Mr. Hager at West Liberty last Saturday, that all I said at Maysville on the subject was the passage about the Maysville editor scattering broken glass in the path for my bare feet when I came back to Maysville as a child returning to his birthplace."

Mr. Willson arrived here over night from Owensville, and all the morning at the National Hotel, where he stopped, throngs of citizens called upon him to pledge him their support and wish him success in his fight for honest government.

Confident of Success.
To all he expressed his confidence over the result of the coming election, and repeated his statements that the people of Kentucky were now aroused as they never had been before, and were preparing to wipe the state machine out of existence with a single blow.

An audience which completely filled the court room of the large Montgomery county court house, greeted Mr. Willson and Dr. Ben L. Bruner, the Republican nominee for secretary of state, in the afternoon. Mr. Willson spoke first, after he had been introduced by Ben W. Hall, postmaster at this place. Among other things he pointed out that the election laws of the state had been changed to protect the bribery of voters.

"The general statutes of 1873 had this provision in the bribery statute: 'But the jury shall never convict any one under the provisions of this chapter upon the testimony of a single witness, unless sustained by strong corroborating circumstances.'"

"This was repealed by the statute of 1886, so that from 1886 to 1892 one witness, if believed, would convict a briber, and during that time many were convicted of bribery at elections and fined and deprived of the right to vote."

That Changes It.

"A friend writes me that he saw four men fined and disfranchised at Mt. Sterling on one man's testimony, and that they complained very bitterly that they were Democrats who never scratched a ticket. This proved the undoing of the law, and in 1892 the repealed clause was put back into our election law and is now part of Sec. 1594, Kentucky statutes, and since that change no conviction has been possible for bribery and many other offenses against election crimes under that statute."

"The registration certificate statute was made a law by a Democratic legislature for the manifest purpose of fraud in elections by getting from ignorant voters their certificates to prevent the voter from voting, and in thousands of cases, especially in Louisville, to vote some repeater in place of the man to whom the certificate was issued."

Mr. Willson told his audience how, during his four weeks' campaign of eastern Kentucky, thousands of clear-eyed, simple and honest-hearted Kentuckians had come to him and expressed an earnest desire for a change in the administration of the affairs of the state, who believed that the Republican nominee stood for a square deal for the common people as exemplified by President Roosevelt, and who would vote their convictions on election day.

Revolution Is Coming.
"There is no mistaking the public sentiment," he said, "and the revolution which means the annihilation of the state machine is upon us."

He then made his earnest, unselfish appeal for conditions that will bring back the honor of Kentucky and prosperity and happiness for its people. Dr. Bruner was introduced by Mr. Willson as "The baby of the Republican state ticket."

"But he is a lusty baby," he added, "and is fighting vigorously for his rights and those of the people."

Dr. Bruner made an extremely clear-cut and forceful exposition of the stand which he and his associates had taken in the fight for honest government. With ringing eloquence he exploited the double dealing and chicanery of the Frankfort ring in vital state issues, and he was listened to with the most earnest attention and interest.

Whisky Barrel Explodes.

An experimental farmer bombed a match to the lung hole of an empty whisky barrel on South Second street Saturday afternoon and in a twinkling of the eye the head of the barrel was sent skyward broken into twenty pieces. The farmer's cap was knocked off his head by flying bits of the wood, and the explosion attracted hundreds to the scene.

JAIL PRISONER IN DUEL ON STREET

Jimmie Taylor and Boyd Manuel Both Wounded.

Young White Man in Company With Deputy Jailer Says Negro Insulted Him.

USED DEPUTY JAILOR'S PISTOL.

Jimmie Taylor, a county jail prisoner, and Boyd Manuel, a negro, were wounded in a pistol duel at Ninth and Washington streets Sunday morning shortly after 12 o'clock. Stories conflict, and the shooting was witnessed by only a few, and being in the dark, it is hard to get at details.

Taylor has but a few months yet to serve, and desired a pair of trousers. Turnkey Murray (Dad) Howie, accompanied him to the city to buy them, and arriving at the jail on returning became hungry. They went to the negro restaurant at Ninth and Washington streets and when coming out Manuel was standing on the pavement. Words were exchanged and several shots followed quickly. When the smoke cleared Manuel was injured in the left arm at the elbow and Taylor in the right thigh. Neither wound is considered dangerous.

Manuel claims that he stood on the outside of the restaurant when Taylor came out, and that Taylor remarked he thought he would hit some negro in the month. Manuel warned him against an attack, and claims Taylor struck him and he in turn knocked Taylor down. Manuel stated that Howie handed the pistol to Taylor who began shooting.

Taylor claims that Manuel insulted him and that words and blows followed, the negro pulling a gun and shooting. Taylor pulled Howie's pistol from his pocket, the latter being in his shirt sleeves, and returned the fire.

Manuel surrendered at the police station where his wound was dressed, and Taylor returned to the jail where his wound was given attention.

SIX BANDITS TERRORIZE TOWN

Loot Bank at Their Leisure After Intimidating Citizens.

Aberdeen, S. D., Sept. 16.—Bandits raided the town of Forney, this county, late Saturday night, broke into the First State bank, wrecked the safe and got away with $2,000. The robbery is one of the holdest in this section of the country. At least six men were in the gang, who, finding three men in a blacksmithshop, warned them not to move and then visited three or four houses where lights were burning and commanded the occupants to extinguish the lights and remain indoors. The bandits worked nearly two hours before making their escape with their booty. No clew has been obtained. This is the fourth bank robbery in this vicinity in the last few weeks.

"Of course we want to see the decorations," cried Katherine, with enthusiasm, and so bowing to the captain and Mrs. Kempt, the lieutenant led the young women down the deck until he came to an elevated spot out of the way of all possible promenaders, on which had been placed in a somewhat secluded position, yet commanding a splendid view of the throng, a settee with just room for two that had been taken from some one's cabin. A blue-jacket stood guard over it, but at a nod from the lieutenant he disappeared.

"Hello!" cried Katherine. "Reserved seats, eh? How different from a theater."

"I couldn't be so selfish as to leave you here all alone," said the lieutenant, smiling. "I don't really wish to talk to any one, but simply to enjoy my dream, with just a little fear at the bottom of my heart that I shall suddenly wake up, rubbing my eyes, in the sewing room."

Katherine plucked her. "Now are you awake?" Dorothy smiled, still dreaming. "Hello!" cried Katherine, with renewed animation. "They've got the secretary safe aboard the lugger, and they seem to be clearing the decks for action. Here is my dear lieutenant returning, tall even among tall ones. Look at him. He's in a great hurry, yet so polite, and doesn't want to bump against anybody. And now, Dorothy, don't you be afraid. I shall prove a perfect model of diffidence. You will be proud of me when you learn with what dignity I pronounce prunes and prison. I think I must languish a little at him. I don't know quite how it's done, but in old English novels the girls always languished, and perhaps an Englishman expects a little languishment in his. I wonder if he comes of a noble family. If he doesn't, I don't think I'll languish very much. Still what matters the pomp of pageantry and pride of race—Isn't that the way the poem runs? I love our dear little lieutenant for himself alone, and I think I'll have just one dance with him at last."

Trummond had captured a camp stool somewhere, and this he placed at right angles to the settee, so that he might face the two girls and yet not interrupt their view. The sailor on guard once more faded away, and the band now struck up the music of the dances.

"Well," cried Trummond cheerfully, "I've got everything settled. I've received the secretary of the navy, our captain is to dance with his wife, and the secretary is Lady Angela's partner. They go."

For a few minutes the young people watched the dance, then the lieutenant said: "Ladies, I am disappointed that you have not complimented our electrical display."

"Hello!" cried Katherine. "Can your band play Sousa?" "I should say so could," boasted the lieutenant, "and we can play his music in a way to give some hints to Mr. Sousa's own musicians."

"To be sure," said the lieutenant, "the band, eh? Sousa's band?" rejoined Katherine, dropping into a chair. "Exactly," smiled the lieutenant. "And now, young ladies, will you excuse me for a few moments? This musical selection means that your secretary of the navy is on the water, and I must be in my place with the rest of the officers to receive him and his staff with all ceremony. Please promise you will not leave this spot till I return. I implore you!"

"Better put the blue-jacket on guard over us," laughed Katherine. "By Jove, a very good idea!"

Dorothy saw all this with a look of sternness and command. Although he was engaged in a joke, the subordinate must see no sign of fooling in his countenance. He said a sharp word to a blue-jacket, who nimbly sprang to the end of the settee, raised his hand in salute and stiffened himself to an automaton. Then the girls saw the tall figure of the lieutenant vouchsafing his way to the spot where the commander stood.

"I say, Dorothy, we're prisoners. I wonder what this Johnny would do if we attempted to fly. Isn't the lieutenant's appearance?"

"He seems a very agreeable person," murmured Dorothy.

"Agreeable! Why, he's splendid! I tell you, Dorothy, I'm going to have the first dance with him. I'm the eldest. He's big enough to divide between two small girls like us, you know."

"I don't intend to dance," said Dorothy.

"Nonsense! You're not going to sit here all night with nobody to speak to. I'll ask the lieutenant to bring you a man. He'll take two or three blue-jackets and capture anybody you want."

"Katherine," said Dorothy, almost as severely as if it were the elder sister who spoke, "if you say anything like that I'll go back to the house."

"You can't get back. I'll appeal to the guard. I'll have you locked up if you don't behave yourself."

"You should behave yourself. Really, Katherine, you must be careful what you say or you'll make me feel very unhappy."

Katherine caught her by the elbow and gave it an affectionate little squeeze.

"Don't be frightened, Miss Propriety, I wouldn't make you unhappy for the world. But surely you're going to dance?"

Dorothy shook her head.

"Some other time. Not tonight. There are too many people here. I shouldn't enjoy it, and there are other reasons. This is all so new and strange to me—these brilliant men and beautiful women, the lights, the music, everything—it is as if I had stepped into another world, something I had read about or perhaps dreamed about and never expected to see."

"Why, you dear girl, I'm not going to dance either, then."

"Oh, yes, you will, Katherine, you must."

"I couldn't be so selfish as to leave you here all alone."

"It isn't selfish at all, Katherine. I shall enjoy myself completely here. I don't really wish to talk to any one, but simply to enjoy my dream, with just a little fear at the bottom of my heart that I shall suddenly wake up, rubbing my eyes, in the sewing room."

Katherine plucked her. "Now are you awake?" Dorothy smiled, still dreaming.

"Hello!" cried Katherine, with renewed animation. "They've got the secretary safe aboard the lugger, and they seem to be clearing the decks for action. Here is my dear lieutenant returning, tall even among tall ones. Look at him. He's in a great hurry, yet so polite, and doesn't want to bump against anybody. And now, Dorothy, don't you be afraid. I shall prove a perfect model of diffidence. You will be proud of me when you learn with what dignity I pronounce prunes and prison. I think I must languish a little at him. I don't know quite how it's done, but in old English novels the girls always languished, and perhaps an Englishman expects a little languishment in his. I wonder if he comes of a noble family. If he doesn't, I don't think I'll languish very much. Still what matters the pomp of pageantry and pride of race—Isn't that the way the poem runs? I love our dear little lieutenant for himself alone, and I think I'll have just one dance with him at last."

Trummond had captured a camp stool somewhere, and this he placed at right angles to the settee, so that he might face the two girls and yet not interrupt their view. The sailor on guard once more faded away, and the band now struck up the music of the dances.

"Well," cried Trummond cheerfully, "I've got everything settled. I've received the secretary of the navy, our captain is to dance with his wife, and the secretary is Lady Angela's partner. They go."

For a few minutes the young people watched the dance, then the lieutenant said: "Ladies, I am disappointed that you have not complimented our electrical display."

"Hello!" cried Katherine. "Can your band play Sousa?" "I should say so could," boasted the lieutenant, "and we can play his music in a way to give some hints to Mr. Sousa's own musicians."

"To be sure," said the lieutenant, "the band, eh? Sousa's band?" rejoined Katherine, dropping into a chair. "Exactly," smiled the lieutenant. "And now, young ladies, will you excuse me for a few moments? This musical selection means that your secretary of the navy is on the water, and I must be in my place with the rest of the officers to receive him and his staff with all ceremony. Please promise you will not leave this spot till I return. I implore you!"

"Better put the blue-jacket on guard over us," laughed Katherine. "By Jove, a very good idea!"

Dorothy saw all this with a look of sternness and command. Although he was engaged in a joke, the subordinate must see no sign of fooling in his countenance. He said a sharp word to a blue-jacket, who nimbly sprang to the end of the settee, raised his hand in salute and stiffened himself to an automaton. Then the girls saw the tall figure of the lieutenant vouchsafing his way to the spot where the commander stood.

"I say, Dorothy, we're prisoners. I wonder what this Johnny would do if we attempted to fly. Isn't the lieutenant's appearance?"

"He seems a very agreeable person," murmured Dorothy.

"Agreeable! Why, he's splendid! I tell you, Dorothy, I'm going to have the first dance with him. I'm the eldest. He's big enough to divide between two small girls like us, you know."

"I don't intend to dance," said Dorothy.

"Nonsense! You're not going to sit here all night with nobody to speak to. I'll ask the lieutenant to bring you a man. He'll take two or three blue-jackets and capture anybody you want."

"Katherine," said Dorothy, almost as severely as if it were the elder sister who spoke, "if you say anything like that I'll go back to the house."

"You can't get back. I'll appeal to the guard. I'll have you locked up if you don't behave yourself."

"You should behave yourself. Really, Katherine, you must be careful what you say or you'll make me feel very unhappy."

Katherine caught her by the elbow and gave it an affectionate little squeeze.

"Don't be frightened, Miss Propriety, I wouldn't make you unhappy for the world. But surely you're going to dance?"

Dorothy shook her head.

"Some other time. Not tonight. There are too many people here. I shouldn't enjoy it, and there are other reasons. This is all so new and strange to me—these brilliant men and beautiful women, the lights, the music, everything—it is as if I had stepped into another world, something I had read about or perhaps dreamed about and never expected to see."

"Why, you dear girl, I'm not going to dance either, then."

"Oh, yes, you will, Katherine, you must."

"I couldn't be so selfish as to leave you here all alone."

"It isn't selfish at all, Katherine. I shall enjoy myself completely here. I don't really wish to talk to any one, but simply to enjoy my dream, with just a little fear at the bottom of my heart that I shall suddenly wake up, rubbing my eyes, in the sewing room."

Katherine plucked her. "Now are you awake?" Dorothy smiled, still dreaming.

"Hello!" cried Katherine, with renewed animation. "They've got the secretary safe aboard the lugger, and they seem to be clearing the decks for action. BURIED CITY

Wonderful Art Uncovered in Ancient Paestum.

Find Streets Below Earth—Italy's Store of Treasures Increasing by Discoveries.

Rome, Sept. 16.—The most uncomfortable position in all Italy must be that of Prof. Rava, minister of public instruction, as not only must money which he does not possess be put out for the preservation of innumerable art treasures of all kinds, but they are increasing on his hands daily through the excavations continually going on. Last spring the Roman forum and the palatine held public interest, which has now turned towards ancient Paestum, where three of the most beautiful Greek temples in the world stand.

Up to this time the presence of the entire city of Paestum has been only dimly suspected. Nothing has been done towards the excavations, partly because of the exceedingly unhealthy, malarial conditions there. These through modern medical science have been much moderated, and it is quite possible to excavate without danger to the health of old workmen.

Ancient City Found.

Until the work was begun it was always supposed that the temples were all that remained, but Prof. Spazzola is convinced that under the ground would be found the city and he has proved himself right.

He began by finding a few meters below the surface a perfect street thirty feet wide and well paved, showing, as do those of Pompeii, the ruts worn by the heavy chariot wheels used in ancient times. These ran past the temples and the palatine and the forum, and he has found a street leading to it and on the opposite side a grandiose semicircle and three steps, forming a magnificent entrance. No one can have an idea without seeing it, of the grandeur which this gives to the already almost perfect temple.

Besides these, Prof. Spazzola has unearthed a vast number of objects of stone, bronze, and iron of great interest as illustrating the customs of those times—knives, daggers, buckles, rings, chains, brooches, utensils, etc.

Ancient Greek Tower.

The ancient Greek tower which rises on the banks of the River Salto not far from the excavations, has been given by the owner to the state for a museum, it being particularly appropriate, as of course everything which comes to light in the excavations of Paestum is Greek.

In Rome another precious Greek statue has been found, particularly interesting as it is pronounced to be original, while most of the celebrated statues here are unique copies of the original master. The new statue represents a market woman with chickens and fruit. The arms are missing and the face is damaged, but otherwise it is perfect. As it was found in Via Monte Caprino, it probably was a guide post pointing the direction to the market, which was near Monte Caprino, at one side of the Tarpeian rock.

A Humane Appeal.

A humane citizen of Richmond, Ind., Mr. T. D. Williams, 107 West Main street, says: "I appeal to all persons with weak lungs to take Dr. King's New Discovery, the only remedy that has helped me and fully comes up to the proprietor's recommendation." It saves more lives than all other throat and lung remedies put together. Used as a cough and cold cure the world over. Cures asthma, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, hoarseness and phthisis, stops hemorrhages of the lungs and builds them up. Guaranteed at all druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

BANK CASHIER KILLS ROBBER.

Redmon (Ill.) Victim Is Shot From Window, But Is Not Known.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 13.—Early this morning E. O. Snoddy, cashier of a private bank at Redmon, Edgar County, Ill., who slept upstairs over the bank, was aroused by the electrical alarm in the bank. From the window he saw three men at the door, and began firing with his revolver at them. Two men ran away. The third was found dead with two bullet wounds in the top of his head. There was nothing on his person to identify him. He was about 30 years of age, and was tattooed from head to foot.

YOUTHFUL FLOPERS MARRIED IN AUTO.

Miss Emma Van Cleave and T. Mack Russell Fused Parents.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 16.—With an automobile as an altar and the blue sky as a canopy, Miss Emma Van Cleave, the beautiful daughter of J. J. Van Cleave, a wealthy Christian county farmer, and T. Mack Russell, a prominent young Todd county citizen, were married Saturday afternoon between this city and Gracely. The bride's mother objected to the marriage on account of the young lady's age, and the lovers decided to take matters into their own hands.

Miss Van Cleave, who was visiting her brother in Paducah, started toward Hopkinsville in a buggy with George Minnis, of Trenton, and Mr. Russell and the Rev. A. P. Lyon, of the Methodist church, left here in an automobile. The parties met a short distance east of Gracely, where the marriage ceremony was performed. Mr. and Mrs. Russell came to Hopkinsville, and left here for Louisville, where they will remain a few days, and then go to the bridegroom's farm, near Trenton, to reside.

AN Ounce of Prevention.

Is worth a pound of cure. There are many more sufferers from consumption who are hopeless of getting well who if they had taken even a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, would have been well. A cough is the foundation of consumption. Ballard's Horehound Syrup will cure that cough. Mrs. S. M. Great Falls, Missouri, writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup in my family for years. My children never suffer with coughs." Sold by J. H. Ochsenschlaeger, Lang Bros. and C. O. Ripley.

Crazy With Homesickness.
Belfontaine, Ohio, Sept. 16.—Charles Connor, who served with the army in the Philippines, is being sent home a raving maniac, due to home sickness. The war department has notified his mother, Mrs. Sarah Connor, that he has been in a Manila asylum since May.

The coming of Judge Brown to Paducah is an event of importance as well as interest. Judge Lightfoot recognized this and has lent his earnest efforts with the Woman's club to secure him. The need of such work as he has done in Salt Lake City is being felt here today and is increasing with the city's growth.
